

The Witch's ritual

Position yourself in the eastern part of your circle. Visualize while you move clockwise: flames emerging from your index finger set the rope on fire.

The rope starts to burn and the flames rise towards the ceiling. A flaming globe is formed all around you.

It is important to visualize these effects, because the Witch does her magick in multiple dimensions simultaneously: on the mental plane, the astral plane and on the physical plane.

As you walk clockwise round after round you should speak and visualize. During the first round you say:

“I create my circle of protection. My circle is my fortress,

My circle is a permanent and functional facility, no less!”

These words mean that you create a barrier, and allow in only certain energies while blocking other unhealthy ones.

The “unhealthy” energies might encompass spirits, ghosts and other forms of life.

Therefore, you create a barrier in the form of a flaming globe to prevent astral pests from attaching to you.

During the second round you may say:

“I am chasing away all unhealthy forces and vermin from this place,

Now I am establishing my Lords Temple in my Witch space!”

During this particular round you have declared that you are erecting your Temple in your ritual space and all astral vermin must leave in a hurry.

During the third round you may say out loud:

“This circle is beyond the Earth time and beyond Earth space,

In the name of Lucifer and Lilith I create this Temple place!”

Now you are back in the East. The next step is the call to the Elemental forces of the East, South, West and North (while you walk clockwise).

Open the four astral gateways and summon the Elemental forces

Point your index finger towards the East (point the Athame or the wand in your next rituals).

Do not touch the boundaries of the circle with your index finger. Summon the Element of Air.

*This is the seal of Lucifer from

Visualize the seal of Lucifer hanging in the air in the eastern part of your circle and just behind the flaming walls of your fiery globe.

Why? We cannot see these four Elemental forces (Air, Fire, Water and Earth), and therefore it is important to symbolize the energy of the Elements with a symbol of enormous power.

The seal of Lucifer is a very powerful symbol, and when you gaze at it for half a minute, you invite Lucifer into your ritual circle.

There is no need to doubt the presence of this demon. He comes at once.

Pull apart two imaginary heavy bright yellow curtains. Open a visualized door with an imaginary rusty key and see Lucifer in front of you.

In this way, you open an astral portal and summon the Elemental force of Air.

This is the invoking pentagram.

Start at the top and finish at the top.

Say aloud:

“I Queen (Lord) here, call upon the Crowned Prince of Hell Lucifer! Elemental force of the East, please come and witness your Queen (Lord) in all her (his) beauty and power.

I rule here and it is my Kingdom! My word is Law!”

Move clockwise towards the southern point of your circle. Point with your index finger (with the Athame or wand) to the South and visualize the seal of Lucifer hanging in the air right in front of you.

Pull apart two imaginary heavy bright red curtains. Open an imaginary door with an imaginary rusty key and see Lucifer or his seal in front of you.

Draw a large invoking pentagram right in front of you. Allow the pentagram to glow in blue flames (or just in natural fire coloured flames).

You have just opened the southern astral portal and summoned the Elemental force of Fire.

Say aloud:

“I, the Queen (Lord) here, call upon the Crowned Prince of Hell Lucifer! Elemental force of the South, please come and witness your Queen (Lord) in all her (his) beauty and power.

I rule here and it is my Kingdom! My word is law!”

Move clockwise towards the western point of your circle. Point with your index finger (with the Athame or the wand during your next rituals) to the West and visualize the seal of Leviathan hanging in the air right in front of you.

Pull apart two heavy dark blue curtains. Open an imaginary door with an imaginary rusty key and see the seal of Leviathan floating over the world ocean, because Leviathan is the Lord of Waters.

This is the seal of Leviathan.

You have just opened the western astral portal and summoned the Elemental force of Water.

Say:

“I, the Queen (Lord) here, call upon the Crowned Prince of Hell Leviathan! Elemental force of the West, please come and witness your Queen (Lord) in all her (his) beauty and power.

I rule here and it is my Kingdom. My word is Law!”

Move clockwise towards the northern point of your circle. Point with your index finger (with the Athame or the wand later) to the North and visualize the seal of Belial hanging in the air right in front of you.

Demon Belial is described in the Goetia and this is his seal.

Pull apart two heavy bright green curtains. Open an imaginary door with an imaginary rusty key and see the seal of Belial floating over the space outside the circle.

You have just opened the northern portal and summoned the Elemental force of Earth.

Say:

“I, the Queen (Lord) here, call upon the Crowned Prince of Hell Belial! Elemental force of the North, please come and witness your Queen (Lord) in all her (his) beauty and power.

I rule here and it is my Kingdom! My word is Law!”

Summon Lucifer (the main demon)

God is a force that controls the Universe with its planets that spin day and night. The sun goes up each morning and disappears each evening to once more appear in the morning.

You surely understand intuitively that there is a Higher Power beyond our reach and understanding.

Summon Lucifer along together with some demon of your choice. Do not expect to see the demons, but they will be present during your ritual.

Stand in front of the altar in the middle of the circle. Hold your ritual knife high up in the air while you point the knife towards the ceiling.

Imagine that your knife is glowing with heat and say:

“I call upon you two who are one, Lucifer and Lilith! Lucifer, daddy, hear me! Lilith, my Queen, hear me! Witness me in all my splendour and beauty! My words are Law!”

Visualize the pillar of power you receive from the Cosmos entering your ritual knife and transfer this force into the statues of the Gods.

I transfer the power into the seals of the demons.

At this moment, light the two white candles and the small tea candle in the red candle holder.

Notice that you should always move clockwise when you are inside your ritual circle.

What is the purpose of your ritual? Now is the time for you to explain for the summoned forces why you are doing your ritual.

When you start to practice the rituals on regular basis, you may use the same ritual structure that I now describe for you.

Instead of saying: “I have come here because I want to possess tremendous power, learn how to cast spells, consecrate my first altar tools, etc., you may say:

“I have come here to do a love spell with two Voodoo dolls. One doll is me and the other doll is the man (woman) I love.”

The consecration of the cauldron

The incense in the cauldron represents the Element of Air. Light the incense in the cauldron.

Hold the cauldron in your hands and say:

“A magickal cauldron you are,

My servant and tool you are,

I will burn incense and paper in you,

My Witch power will flow to you!”

Place the cauldron on the altar.

The consecration of your Athame (Ritual knife)

Let us consecrate your Witch knife. Take the ritual knife in your left hand and start rubbing the knife with the magnet.

Rub several times to symbolically magnetize the knife with Witch power. Say as you rub the knife with the magnet:

“With a magnet I rub my knife,

And give it a magickal life.

This ritual knife is my tool of power,

My power grows starting from this hour.”

Plunge the knife into the bucket with the planting soil. Later, when your ritual is over, place the bucket under the moon lit sky. Actually, you are already doing your very first spell.

The consecration of the wand

If you wish to consecrate your wand, you will need to apply the herbal tea to the wand.

Dried herbs placed in hot water is fine to use as an herbal tea in case you can't obtain Mugwort or Wormwood.

Apply the herbal tea of your choice to the wand and say:

“Witch power will now be given to me,

My wand will make miracles happen to me,

Wand! You will now listen to me,

Make miracles happen to me!”

Place the wand on the altar. Now we begin consecrating your altar.

The consecration of your altar

It is important to clean away foreign energies that are attached to your altar. Such energies are stored in the furniture, and their origins may be traced to people who owned the altar, if you bought the furniture as a second hand item.

Even if you bought the furniture piece as a newly manufactured item, the energies of those who manufactured the item, are still within it.

Clean the altar with the four representations of the Elemental forces: the aromatic smoke in the cauldron, the tea candle in the red candle holder, the Moon Water and the salt.

Spread the aromatic smoke over the altar. Tap with your fist at each corner of the altar and say:

“From you all vermin shall flee,

You shall become pest free,

Pure and Holy you shall be,

You shall serve only me!”

Lift up the red candle holder and hold it above each corner of the altar. Tap each corner with your fist and say:

“From you all vermin shall flee,

You shall become pest free,

Pure and Holy you shall be,

You shall serve only me!”

Dip your fingers into the Moon Water and transfer some drops of the liquid to each corner of the altar. Tap each altar corner with your fist and say:

“From you all vermin shall flee,

You shall become pest free,

Pure and Holy you shall be,

You shall serve only me!”

Spread little salt on each altar corner. Tap each corner with your fist and say:

“From you all vermin shall flee,

You shall become pest free,

Pure and Holy you shall be,

You shall serve only me!”

The consecration of the altar pentacle

This is the altar pentacle.

Hold the pentacle over the rising smoke. Let the aromatic smoke cover the pentacle with its mist. Say:

“I banish vermin and pest from you,

Vermin and pest shall flee from you,

Your star with power I imbue,

I give you a magickal life anew.

From now you shall serve only me,

Your task is vitally important to me.

You shall protect and watch over me,

From demonic attack you’ll keep me free.”

Now you have consecrated all your Witch tools except the bowls with the Moon Water and salt.

Salt is a very powerful substance and it banishes all vermin at once. The same applies to the Holy Water, because it has been charged by the moon.

Raise the power in your circle

Your ritual is almost over: you have consecrated your Witch tools for use in your next rituals.

Now is the time to raise a cone of Witch power. The energy cone must be raised during each ritual.

Some Witches walk clockwise inside their circle while drumming. I have a Shamanic drum and enjoy drumming when I summon Oden. Occasionally I make too much noise.

It is not convenient to drum while making too much noise. The neighbours might go mad.

Therefore, more than often, I dance to music while moving in a clockwise manner inside my circle. It is enough to dance during ten minutes.

When you have danced ten minutes, form an imaginary flaming ball between the palms of your hands and transfer the flames to your newly consecrated tools.

Your energy is real on all three planes: on the physical, the astral and the mental plane.

Sit down on the floor and let the excess energy leave your body and flow into the earth.

Visualize this energy current as electricity which is being grounded by you.

End the ritual and close the four astral gateways

Thank Lucifer and Lilith for their cooperation. Say: “If you want, you may stay with me, but if you have to go, then feel free to depart to your abodes.”

Now, it is time to end the ritual. Position yourself facing north. Point your index finger to the North and thank the Element of Earth. Visualize the seal of Belial fade away.

Say: “Thank you, Crowned Prince of Hell Belial. My rite is over now and I give you the license to depart. Go now in peace. I see you again soon.”

This is the banishing pentagram.

Close the imaginary door, lock it with the rusty key and pull together the heavy green curtains.

Move to the western part of your circle. Point your index finger to the West and thank the Element of Water. Visualize the seal of Leviathan fading away.

Say: "Thank you, Crowned Prince of Hell Leviathan. My rite is over now and I give you the license to depart. Go now in peace. I see you again soon."

Draw a large Spirit banishing pentagram in blue flames right in front of you. Close the imaginary door, lock it with the rusty key and pull together the heavy blue curtains.

Move to the southern part of your circle. Point your index finger to the South and thank the Element of Fire. Visualize the seal of Lucifer fading away.

Say: "Thank you, Crowned Prince of Hell, Lucifer. My rite is over now and I give you the license to depart. Go now in peace. I see you again soon."

Close the imaginary door, lock it with the rusty key and pull together the heavy red curtains.

Move to the eastern part of your circle. Point your index finger to the East and thank the Element of Air. Visualize the seal of Lucifer fading away.

Say: "Thank you, Crowned Prince of Hell, Lucifer. My rite is over now and I give you the license to depart. Go now in peace. I see you again soon."

Close the imaginary door, lock it with the rusty key and pull together the heavy yellow curtains.

Collect the circle flames into your ritual tools

Position yourself in the eastern part of your circle. Begin moving in a counter clockwise manner one single round.

You will come back to the eastern part of your circle. The flames that formed your fiery globe of protection all around you must be collected, because they are real on the astral plane.

For the moment while your ritual knife is in the bucket with the planting soil, you may skip collecting the energy of your circle into your ritual knife or wand.

Just breathe in the flames from the fading circle. They will energize your body.

During your next rituals, you may collect the flames into your ritual knife or into the wand to ritually charge them with power.

While you move From East to East say: "This circle is open, but it keeps my spell unbroken. Words were spoken, but the secrecy of my spell is unbroken."

You have just finished your consecration ritual. Pull out the Athame from the bucket some hours before you do your next ritual.

Clean the ritual knife by washing it with soapy water. Place the ritual knife on your altar.

When the moon will become full, it will be time to do another ritual of your own choice.

The frame for the ritual

Use the frame of this ritual for your spells. The frame consists of the following moments:

1. The creation of a circle boundary. During this step you surround yourself and your Temple space with an imaginary flaming sphere (a large globe). You should never cross the circle boundary, except in cases of emergency.

Imagine yourself standing inside this bubble.

2. The opening of the four astral gateways in a clockwise manner and the invitation of the four guardians.

3. The invitation of the archetypes (the Gods) or the demons of Goetia, Grimoirium Verum, etc.

4. Doing a spell with the help of the above mentioned archetypes (for example a love spell with Lucifer and the demon Sitri).

5. Raising the energy of your circle by dancing clockwise. You can walk clockwise inside your circle (don't move counter clockwise inside the circle).

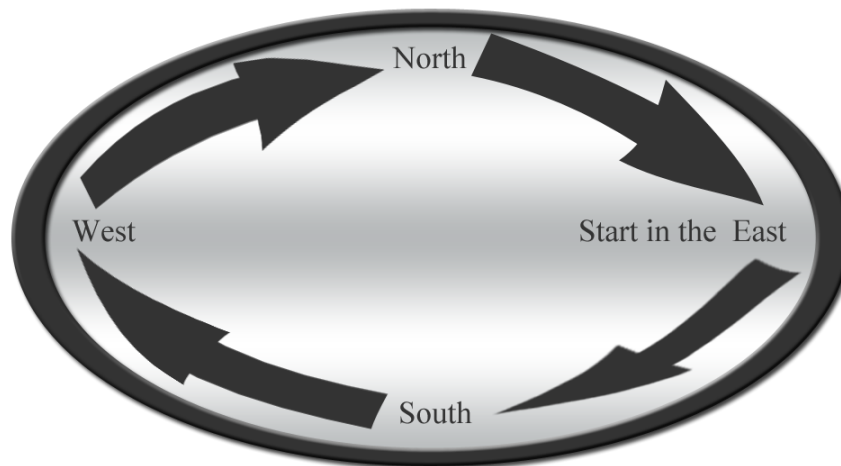

6. Grounding your power. This can be done in several ways. After dancing you can sit on the floor. You can also place your palms on the spell ingredients to project your power into them.

7. Saying: "Thank you!" to the demons (or Gods) and allowing them to leave.

8. Closing the four astral gateways in a counter clockwise manner, thanking each guardian, and giving each guardian permission to leave.

9. Disassembling the circle boundary in a counter clockwise manner and collecting the imaginary flames from the burning sphere into the ritual knife or into the wand.

Start walking in the East and walk clockwise 3 rounds.
Visualize the rope on the floor catching fire and see the flames rising to the ceiling.

After 3 rounds, you will be back in the Eastern spot of the ritual circle. Stop! Now imagine the flames all around you. Form an imaginary flaming sphere around you.

My altar is placed in the Northern part of my circle and close to the wall. When I do spells, I imagine the boundary of my circle penetrating the northern wall to encompass the altar.

My spells work very well. Once upon a time I used to place my altar in the middle of my ritual circle and danced around it in a clockwise manner.

But then as I advanced in my skills, I moved my altar towards the wall. Today, I have no altar at all.

I do all my spells at a small table, because standing at the altar and doing magick hurts my back. I keep my magickal tools inside a small bookshelf.

The location of the altar is truly a matter of taste and comfort, but I always start to form my protective fiery globe in the East (because the Sun goes up in the East).

Position yourself in the Eastern part of your circle and start walking along the rope clockwise three times when creating your circle.

While you do your first consecration ritual you can use your index finger instead of a ritual knife or instead of the wand.

Point your index finger towards the rope while creating the boundary of the circle.

Many people worry if they do not have a ritual knife or a wand to use during this first ritual. No need to worry! The magick will work.

The consecration ritual gives you an opportunity to try out your first witchcraft ritual.
